Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely Persian or Arabic, on a narrow strip of paper. The text is arranged in approximately 12 horizontal lines. The right edge of the strip is severely damaged and torn, with the text continuing onto a dark, irregular background. The paper is aged and yellowed, with two small circular holes visible near the top edge.

Handwritten text in Arabic script, likely a manuscript page. The text is written in a cursive style and is partially obscured by a large, irregular tear on the right side of the page. The visible text appears to be a continuous passage, possibly a historical or religious document.

[illegible]

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. It appears to be a continuous narrative or record, possibly related to a legal or administrative matter, given the formal nature of the script and the presence of some punctuation marks like commas and periods. The text is arranged in a single column, filling most of the width of the page. There are some faint, illegible markings at the top left and top right, which might be page numbers or headers. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved but aged piece of historical writing.

Handwritten text in the top right corner, possibly a date or a reference number, written in a similar cursive script.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely Persian or Arabic, spanning the width of the page. The text is densely packed and appears to be a continuous narrative or a list of items. The script is written in dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. There are several small, dark circular marks or holes visible along the top edge of the page, possibly from binding or damage. The text is arranged in a single horizontal line across the page.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, continuing from the previous page. The text is written in a dark ink on aged paper.
